

ONE MORE CHANCE

WILL BE GIVEN THE DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE TO DO THE FAIR THING.

Representation at the Polls and a Fair Count Demanded by Friends of Messrs. Morehouse, Clalborne and Glover—Congressman Jas. N. Burnes Renominated in the Fourth District To-Day—Loc. Cabin Dedication—The City Committee's Plans—Mayor Francis at His Office.

At its next meeting on Wednesday, the 25th inst., the Democratic City Committee will be called upon to settle the questions of getting the poll books for the election and giving the gubernatorial candidates representation at the polls. The friends of Messrs. Morehouse, Glover, and Clalborne recognize that unless they obtain the right to have a judge at each precinct their candidates will have small chances in at least twenty of the twenty-eight wards at elections held without registration lists. Coal Oil Inspector Baggott, who is one of Gov. Morehouse's managers in this city, says that the committee will be given one more chance to give out its assurance that the fair thing will be done, and that if the committee does not consent to the proposition the Morehouse, Clalborne and Glover factions will combine and hold a primary independent of the Central Committee, and will send the delegates elected to the State Convention.

The necessity of securing representation at the polls is illustrated by a story with which George Stroup of the Twenty-first Ward is credited. He says that Central Committee-man Pat Cassidy of the Twenty-first Ward once asked Ed Butler if it wouldn't be safer to have the returns made up before the election, as he was afraid the judges and clerks would be away and not report.

Baggott thought well of the idea.

SATISFACTORY TO REPUBLICANS.

The Republican City Committee is awaiting the outcome of the negotiations between the Democratic City Committee and a Democratic Recorder, acting under Democratic Governor, over the poll-books. The Republicans feel that they will be safe in the election and that the election after the points in dispute are settled. Chairman John McCall of the Republican Committee said to-day: "We are taking no hand in the matter. As far as my opinion goes, I think the offer of the Recorder of Voters to furnish the poll-books in charge of a deputy, whose salary is to be paid by the committee, is a fair offer and would be less expensive than the plan of copying or of buying the books. Under this poll book plan they will only get the names of the voters and the registration lists. They won't get the corrected lists containing the subsequent registrations. I think they ought to accept the proposal."

Mayor Francis in Town.

Mayor Francis returned to the city unexpectedly at 6 o'clock this morning from New Madrid County. He was in his office at the City Hall all day, and transacted an immense amount of business which had accumulated during his absence. He may speak to the public by his recent illness and exertions, but is not ready to lay up for repairs. He leaves to-night for Cedar County.

James N. Burnes Renominated.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 19.—The Democratic Congressional Convention of the Fourth District met to-day at 10 o'clock. Notwithstanding the rumored opposition to Burnes, the delegates were instructed for him. After the usual routine work and resolutions endorsing the President, the delegates voted the action of the Democratic National Convention. James N. Burnes was renominated by acclamation.

A Log Cabin Dedication.

APPLETON, Wis., July 19.—The campaign in this county will be opened this evening by the Appleton City Republican Club, with brass and martial bands and 250 torches in procession. Addresses will be made by L. Bridges of Sedalia and others. The dedication of the Log Cabin Headquarters in this county will take place this evening.

They Say They Will, but Will They?

The Democratic City Committee met last night. A resolution introduced committing the body to a pledge to give all candidates representation at the primaries was declared out of order, on the ground that the plan was already covered in by a resolution which reads as follows: "In all primary elections each delegation shall be entitled to name one Judge and one clerk at each precinct and polling place." Some of the committee members do not believe that the ruling of the Chair forbodes some sharp practice on election day.

Committeeman O'Meara introduced a resolution committing the body to a pledge to the border Williams. In justification of the suspicion of the committee this motion was laid over until next meeting.

The Nineteenth Ward Club.

The Nineteenth Ward Hendricks Association, in the absence of President Garth, endorsed Mayor Francis' candidacy last night. There is a report that President Garth will resign his place at the head of the club which has lost his popularity, but the Major has not expressed any sentiment so unfriendly to the Major's candidacy. The Major was secured by Ed Butler, who is now a resident of the Nineteenth Ward. Several of the prominent members of the club were opposed to the endorsement of any candidate.

Meeting of the West Club.

The West Club met last night at the head-quarters, Seventh and Locust streets, but there were only eleven members present. Letters were read from Mr. G. A. Koerner of Belleville and Congressman Clardy. These gentlemen had written to address the club and last night forwarded some of the invitation. The dates have not yet been selected.

Hannibal Democratic Drum Corps.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

HANNIBAL, Mo., July 19.—On the 8th inst. the Hannibal Democratic Drum Corps made an excursion to St. Louis, and they were so well pleased with the trip that to-day they have decided to repeat it. About 1,000 persons are expected to turn out over the Line. The full one thousand persons are expected to attend.

HE WAS A BAD MAN.

An Arkansas Deputy Sheriff Fatal Shot on the Texas Line.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

TEXARKANA, Ark., July 19.—Yesterday Tobe Barfield, a deputy sheriff, attacked and badly used up another man known as Shorty, alleging as the cause that the latter had talked of him as belonging to a band of thieves that have for some time been operating in the vicinity of the Cotton Belt Depot. At about 10 o'clock last night the City Marshal on the Texarkana side of the line, T. C. B. & Q. Barfield at the depot, ran in and was pursued into Arkansas after having several shots fired at him. About an hour later an arrow was fired about thirty feet from the State line in Arkansas. The arrow hit Tobe Barfield in the head. He was taken to the hospital in Texarkana. Hamm is the engineer and Wood conductor of the train which ran over Conley.

MICHIGAN DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Probable Fusion With Greenbackers—Texas Union Labor Convention.

DETROIT, Mich., July 19.—The Democratic State Convention met at 11:45 o'clock this morning. William P. Wells of Detroit was made Temporary Chairman and F. H. Thomas Temporary Secretary. After the calling of the roll, the names of the district committeemen and electors chosen by the district caucuses this morning, Chairman Weston of the State Central Committee announced that he had received a telegram from the Greenbackers, who are in session at Grand Rapids, asking that a Conference Committee be appointed to confer with a similar committee from that body. The announcement was received at 10:45 a.m. The general fusion of a committee composed of a member from each Congressional District was named. A recess was taken then until 3 o'clock. That will be effected there seems to be no doubt, both on the State ticket and on elect-

The Mills Bill.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 19.—THE WORLD says to-day: "A protectionist organ insists that free wool means an actual beginning of absolute free trade. Did free hides mean the actual beginning of absolute free trade? And has the world's trade destroyed the cattle raising industry?" On the contrary, has it not added largely to our tanning business and to the manufacture and export of leather goods?" The Tribune says: "A protectionist organ insists that every Democrat see to it that he does not lose sight of the Democratic flag. That is the main thing. Democratic flag forever, whether you like or abhor the pattern of the guidon which is now in the hands of Sargent—Major Mills."

The Tribune says: "The pride joke of the protectionists is that they are whisky, pure and simple. The Democratic party, collectively speaking, is full of whisky to the chin."

The Times says: "The passage of the bill will be a great step forward in the cause of the President to go to the country with a confidence that they deserve success, which ought of itself to go far toward commanding success."

Texas Union Labor Convention.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

GARLANDSVILLE, Tex., July 19.—Delegates representing the Union Labor party from all the counties in this, the 14th, District, have met here to-day for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. There are several aspirants for the nomination before the convention. The Union Labor party is growing very rapidly in this district. Many of the members of the party have heretofore been Democrats.

Field Day.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

BATESVILLE, Ark., July 19.—Yesterday was a field day for the Democracy. The grandest ratification meeting ever held in North Arkansas was held here. An old-fashioned barbecue added to the occasion, and distinguished speakers entertained the crowd. The party in this section is in better shape than ever before.

Warner Miller for Governor.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

UTICA, N. Y., July 19.—Warner Miller spoke on currency and banking at the annual meeting of the Merchants' and Mechanics' Association of Central New York at Sylvan Beach, Oneida Lake, yesterday afternoon. Hundreds of people wore badges inscribed: "Hon. Warner Miller for Governor."

CASUALTIES.

A Young Farmer Drowned—Shot in His Field—Fatal Jump.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

PADUCAH, Ky., July 19.—A young man named Mick Honell, while bathing in Mayfield Creek, near Louisville, this country, was taken with a cramp and drowned. He was a prosperous young farmer and was to have been married next Saturday. His body was recovered.

Accidentally Shot.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

OLATHE, Kan., July 19.—Wm. Nasco was accidentally shot and received injuries from which he cannot recover, near Edgerton, this country, this morning. He was out on his farm cutting wood and a man named Wm. H. H. Ross, who was shooting birds, shot him accidentally. He will be arrested for criminal negligence.

A Fatal Jump.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

LANDON, Mo., July 19.—Lafe Clark, aged 19, a porter for the Central Hotel of this city, was killed at 11 o'clock to-day, at Farber, a station five miles east of here, in attempting to jump from a moving freight train to another.

Mrs. Norton's HIDING PLACE.

She Was at a Private House in Topeka, but Was Skipped.

The Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 19.—No trace of Henry W. Moore and Mrs. Norton has been obtained. The general opinion seems to be that Moore has left the State and does not intend to return. The attorneys say that Mrs. Norton is still in the city, and that her hiding place is known only to the attorneys. Her trunk are still in her room at the Copeland, and Moore's baggage remains in his cell in the county jail. The police have been making a quiet search for them, but have been unable to obtain a clue to their whereabouts.

LATER DEVELOPMENTS.

It developed this afternoon that Mrs. Norton's hiding place is at the residence of Mrs. Fritch on Monroe street, between Second and Third, but about 9 o'clock last evening she left the house in company with a stranger, and was not seen since. The porter called for her, and a few minutes later the two left together. Mrs. Norton, saying that she was going to Farber for a walk, did not return when she stated to admit that Mrs. Norton has been stopping there, and appears to be very much surprised over her mistake. They have received no word from her, and are inclined to look upon it as a mistake. They were not aware that her hiding place was known to any one. They declare that Moore is not in Topeka and did not know where Mrs. Norton was hiding.

Run Over by a Train.

The Kirkwood accommodation train, which arrived at 12:30 this afternoon, brought in Patrick Conley, who was run over at Benton Station by a Missouri Pacific freight train which arrived in the city at noon. Conley had his right arm cut off, his left broken, and he was injured otherwise. Dr. Blackmer of Benton said he was in a bad way. Conley was endeavoring to get off the train when in some way he fell and was thrown under Conley's car. The engine ran over him and he was taken to the city hospital in St. Louis. He was taken to the city hospital in St. Louis. Hamm is the engineer and Wood conductor of the train which ran over Conley.

Caught With Stealing $1,400.

A warrant was issued to-day charging Frank Bratcher, a barkeeper, with stealing $1,400 from John Neu, a saloon-keeper at No. 1490 North Broadway, by whom he was employed. Neu says he placed the money in a safe, and charged the sum of $1,400 to his servant girl, Lena Adams. The day after Neu to-day that last Monday night she was awakened in her room and money were gone. The servant told Mrs. Neu that she was afraid to inform on Bratcher, because he had threatened to kill her if she did so.

The Would-be Train Wrecker.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

QUINCY, Ill., July 19.—George Nickles, alias George Gebhardt, who was arrested for placing ties across the C. B. & Q. track below this city, was given a preliminary hearing, at which he was bound over in the sum of $1,000.

Miss Fannie Caswell of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting Alice Maud Carpenter of Compton Hill and will go North soon.

A PINKERTON PLOT.

NEARLY ALL THE ACCUSED ALLEGED TO BE DETECTIVES.

The So-Called Conspiracy Declared to Be Without Foundation—Result of the Investigation of the Griswold Committee—Bowles, Broderick, Wilson and Smith Known to Be Pinkerton Employees—The Prisoners Held for the Grand-Jury—Some of Them Rearrested on State Warrants.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 19.—A member of one of the grievance committees now in session here, said to-day that very little was done yesterday except receiving testimony which has been gathered relative to the dynamite conspiracy. "The testimony is not all in," said W. B. Huskey, chairman of the Chicago & Alton Committee, "but we have enough to show that Bowles, Broderick, Wilson and Smith are Pinkerton men. Pinkerton has had more in our organization for years, and they are getting in their work. We have also learned that not an ounce of dynamite has been exploded on the Burlington tracks. How do we know? We have men who know the effects of dynamite, and they destroyed the entire railroad industry." On the contrary, has it not added largely to our tanning business and to the manufacture and export of leather goods?"

"We are taking no hand in the matter. As far as my opinion goes, I think the offer of the Recorder of Voters to furnish the poll-books in charge of a deputy, whose salary is to be paid by the committee, is a fair offer and would be less expensive than the plan of copying or buying the books. Under this poll book plan they will only get the names of the voters and the registration lists. They won't get the corrected lists containing the subsequent registrations. I think they ought to accept the proposal."

The following resolution was adopted by the chairmen of the Grievance Committee of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. Mrs. Martin, who is a widow, sued for $5,000 damages for the killing of her son, Albers, aged 17 years, on the night of July 5, when he was struck by a west-bound grip-car and dragged a distance of several hundred feet, so that he died shortly after the accident. According to plaintiff's statement, the company had erected two large piles of bricks on the north side of Olive street, between Leonard and Channing avenues, cutting off to a large extent a view of trains approaching from the east and suggesting the advisability of thickening or raising the brick piles, a grip-car attached to them, and driving a child as plaintiff's child as he was stepping backward to avoid an explosion. The boy was dragged a long distance and the serious charge is made that through the carelessness of the company, the explosion was caused. Plaintiff's child was a boy of 10 years, and he was warned of the collision by a passenger, he continued to give the train full headway, so that the little fellow was dragged a distance of 100 feet. Plaintiff believes that her son would not have been killed had it not been for this alleged negligence of the company to give the boy the grip-car.

The following resolution was adopted by the chairmen of the Grievance Committee of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. Mrs. Martin, who is a widow, sued for $5,000 damages for the killing of her son, Albers, aged 17 years, on the night of July 5, when he was struck by a west-bound grip-car and dragged a distance of several hundred feet, so that he died shortly after the accident. According to plaintiff's statement, the company had erected two large piles of bricks on the north side of Olive street, between Leonard and Channing avenues, cutting off to a large extent a view of trains approaching from the east and suggesting the advisability of thickening or raising the brick piles, a grip-car attached to them, and driving a child as plaintiff's child as he was stepping backward to avoid an explosion. The boy was dragged a long distance and the serious charge is made that through the carelessness of the company, the explosion was caused. Plaintiff's child was a boy of 10 years, and he was warned of the collision by a passenger, he continued to give the train full headway, so that the little fellow was dragged a distance of 100 feet. Plaintiff believes that her son would not have been killed had it not been for this alleged negligence of the company to give the boy the grip-car.

The following resolution was adopted by the chairmen of the Grievance Committee of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. Mrs. Martin, who is a widow, sued for $5,000 damages for the killing of her son, Albers, aged 17 years, on the night of July 5, when he was struck by a west-bound grip-car and dragged a distance of several hundred feet, so that he died shortly after the accident. According to plaintiff's statement, the company had erected two large piles of bricks on the north side of Olive street, between Leonard and Channing avenues, cutting off to a large extent a view of trains approaching from the east and suggesting the advisability of thickening or raising the brick piles, a grip-car attached to them, and driving a child as plaintiff's child as he was stepping backward to avoid an explosion. The boy was dragged a long distance and the serious charge is made that through the carelessness of the company, the explosion was caused. Plaintiff's child was a boy of 10 years, and he was warned of the collision by a passenger, he continued to give the train full headway, so that the little fellow was dragged a distance of 100 feet. Plaintiff believes that her son would not have been killed had it not been for this alleged negligence of the company to give the boy the grip-car.

The following resolution was adopted by the chairmen of the Grievance Committee of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. Mrs. Martin, who is a widow, sued for $5,000 damages for the killing of her son, Albers, aged 17 years, on the night of July 5, when he was struck by a west-bound grip-car and dragged a distance of several hundred feet, so that he died shortly after the accident. According to plaintiff's statement, the company had erected two large piles of bricks on the north side of Olive street, between Leonard and Channing avenues, cutting off to a large extent a view of trains approaching from the east and suggesting the advisability of thickening or raising the brick piles, a grip-car attached to them, and driving a child as plaintiff's child as he was stepping backward to avoid an explosion. The boy was dragged a long distance and the serious charge is made that through the carelessness of the company, the explosion was caused. Plaintiff's child was a boy of 10 years, and he was warned of the collision by a passenger, he continued to give the train full headway, so that the little fellow was dragged a distance of 100 feet. Plaintiff believes that her son would not have been killed had it not been for this alleged negligence of the company to give the boy the grip-car.

The following resolution was adopted by the chairmen of the Grievance Committee of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. Mrs. Martin, who is a widow, sued for $5,000 damages for the killing of her son, Albers, aged 17 years, on the night of July 5, when he was struck by a west-bound grip-car and dragged a distance of several hundred feet, so that he died shortly after the accident. According to plaintiff's statement, the company had erected two large piles of bricks on the north side of Olive street, between Leonard and Channing avenues, cutting off to a large extent a view of trains approaching from the east and suggesting the advisability of thickening or raising the brick piles, a grip-car attached to them, and driving a child as plaintiff's child as he was stepping backward to avoid an explosion. The boy was dragged a long distance and the serious charge is made that through the carelessness of the company, the explosion was caused. Plaintiff's child was a boy of 10 years, and he was warned of the collision by a passenger, he continued to give the train full headway, so that the little fellow was dragged a distance of 100 feet. Plaintiff believes that her son would not have been killed had it not been for this alleged negligence of the company to give the boy the grip-car.

The following resolution was adopted by the chairmen of the Grievance Committee of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. Mrs. Martin, who is a widow, sued for $5,000 damages for the killing of her son, Albers, aged 17 years, on the night of July 5, when he was struck by a west-bound grip-car and dragged a distance of several hundred feet, so that he died shortly after the accident. According to plaintiff's statement, the company had erected two large piles of bricks on the north side of Olive street, between Leonard and Channing avenues, cutting off to a large extent a view of trains approaching from the east and suggesting the advisability of thickening or raising the brick piles, a grip-car attached to them, and driving a child as plaintiff's child as he was stepping backward to avoid an explosion. The boy was dragged a long distance and the serious charge is made that through the carelessness of the company, the explosion was caused. Plaintiff's child was a boy of 10 years, and he was warned of the collision by a passenger, he continued to give the train full headway, so that the little fellow was dragged a distance of 100 feet. Plaintiff believes that her son would not have been killed had it not been for this alleged negligence of the company to give the boy the grip-car.

The following resolution was adopted by the chairmen of the Grievance Committee of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. Mrs. Martin, who is a widow, sued for $5,000 damages for the killing of her son, Albers, aged 17 years, on the night of July 5, when he was struck by a west-bound grip-car and dragged a distance of several hundred feet, so that he died shortly after the accident. According to plaintiff's statement, the company had erected two large piles of bricks on the north side of Olive street, between Leonard and Channing avenues, cutting off to a large extent a view of trains approaching from the east and suggesting the advisability of thickening or raising the brick piles, a grip-car attached to them, and driving a child as plaintiff's child as he was stepping backward to avoid an explosion. The boy was dragged a long distance and the serious charge is made that through the carelessness of the company, the explosion was caused. Plaintiff's child was a boy of 10 years, and he was warned of the collision by a passenger, he continued to give the train full headway, so that the little fellow was dragged a distance of 100 feet. Plaintiff believes that her son would not have been killed had it not been for this alleged negligence of the company to give the boy the grip-car.

THE POST-DISPATCH

BRANCH OFFICES.

At the following LOCATIONS BRANCH OFFICES have been established, where WANT ADVERTISEMENTS and SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received and where the PAPER is kept for sale:

BENTON ST.—1501..... G. Satter

BROADWAY ST.—N..... G. P. Morris

BROADWAY ST.—1138..... W. J. Kehrmann

BROADWAY ST.—2615..... E. Geisler

BROADWAY ST.—2007..... F. Henne

BROADWAY ST.—7651..... L. F. Walbel

CARR ST.—1322..... Lion Drug Store

CARR ST.—2901..... Crawley's Phar

CASS AV.—1006..... Cass Avenue Phar

CASS AV.—1827..... C. W. Tompkins

CHOUTEAU AV.—1801..... H. F. Spiller

CHOUTEAU AV.—2354..... C. Schaefer

CLARK AV.—2156..... W. E. Krueger

CLARK AV.—2156..... D. Nake & Bro.

DOUDIER ST.—2948..... B. Vogt

EASTON AV.—3180..... F. C. Pauley

FISCHER & CO.—Fischer & Co.

EAST GRAND AV.—1923..... T. T. Wurmb

ELEVENTH ST.—3701..... T. T. Wurmb

FINNEY AV.—8837..... F. E. Fiquet

FRANKLIN AV.—1600..... J. E. Kipstein

FRANKLIN AV.—1645..... J. B. Clark

GAMBLE ST.—2631..... A. Bruns

GARRISON AV.—1016..... Harris & Raymond

GRAND AV.—1400..... F. Sohn & Co.

GRAND AV.—1926..... W. D. Tamm

GRAND AV.—2740..... The Layton

GRAND AV.—2801..... B. Jost

GRAND AV.—2846..... F. W. Sennweid

LAFAYETTE AV.—1800..... Philip Kast

LAFAYETTE AV.—2661..... C. E. Neubert

LUCAS AV.—1700..... W. S. Fleming

MARSH ST.—2021..... C. G. Penney

MARSH ST.—2246..... St. L. Phar

MENARD.—1424..... G. Weisberg

MORGAN ST.—3950..... J. S. Prester

NINTH ST.—2628..... O. Claus

OLIVE ST.—1500..... R. Riley

OLIVE ST.—2800..... J. L. Reyton

OLIVE ST.—3000..... J. Gudewitz & Co.

OLIVE ST.—3301..... Louis Schurk

OLIVE ST.—3500..... Adam B. Roth

PARK AV.—1957..... G. W. Andrew

PARK AV.—2870..... A. P. Kallman

PAYLOR AV.—1000..... G. H. Wagner

WASHINGTON AV.—1328..... Prima's Phar

WASHINGTON AV.—2328..... T. S. Glenn

WASHINGTON AV.—2800..... J. Weiner

WASHINGTON AV.—3901..... F. W. Conradt

SUBURBAN.

KIRKWOOD..... L. P. Hamm

WEBSTER GROVES..... Livery Stable

EAST ST. LOUIS..... O. F. Kresse

BELLEVILLE ILL..... Kaesche & Stelberg

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH IN KANSAS CITY.

The SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH has now attained a circulation in Kansas City second only to that of the two chief Kansas City Morning Papers and it is rapidly growing in favor among its readers at the month of the Kaw. It will hereafter be kept on hand and for sale by the following Kansas City dealers:

B. GLICK..... 21 E. Fifth St.

G. A. BETTS..... Centropolis Hotel

G. A. BETTS..... St. James Hotel

W. E. ASHTON..... 636 Walnut St.

HENRY T. PIERCE..... 603 Main St.

J. H. HALL..... 609 Main St.

JENKINS & WINCH..... Opposite Post-Office

J. A. CROSBY..... 1030 Union Av.

J. F. CROBY..... Union Depot

MARSHALL & THOMAS..... 203 W. Ninth St.

J. E. MALONEY..... 209 W. Ninth St.

H. KLEINPEL..... 18 E. Eleventh St.

B. J. AUSTIN..... 1207 Grand Av.

A. L. JENKINS..... Contes House

J. MCARDELL, Junction St. Louis & Union Av.

A. L. ESKERIDGE..... Twelfth & Locust St.

WYANDOTTE.

W. T. MAUNDER..... Post-Office

VEIL & McCAGE..... 1916 Sixth St.

J. C. BERNARD..... 540 Minn. Ave.

J. A. FREELAND, General Agent, 203 W. Ninth St., Kansas City.

Carrier delivery daily and Sunday.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Owing to the early departure of the fast mail train, advertisements for the SUNDAY MORNING POST-DISPATCH must be in the office before 9 o'clock Saturday night to insure insertion.

Parties advertising in these Columns and having the answers addressed in care of POST-DISPATCH, will please ask for check, to enable them to get their letters, as none will be delivered except on presentation of check. All answers to advertisements should be inclosed in envelopes. Parties answering advertisements must have their replies directed to their own POST-OFFICE address.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALES.

Book-keepers.

Divert your wants in "Sunday Morning Post-DISPATCH."

WANTED—Sue as book-keeper by a sober, industrious man; ref. given. Ad. S 36, this office.

Clerks and Salesmen.

THE Sunday Post-Dispatch will secure you the best for fee; per line.

WANTED—A situation in barber shop; had no reference; reference; if needed. Ad. B 36, this office.

WANTED—A gentleman of education, speaking French, Spanish, Italian and English, late in life; good and honest business, desires occupation. Address W 36, this office.

COOKS.

Divert your wants in "Sunday Morning Post-DISPATCH."

WANTED—Cook, immediately, man or woman, st. 115 Washington. Ad. 56

WANTED—A situation by a first-class pastry, hotel & restaurant cook (twenty-five years) experience; reference given. Ad. J. M., 722 Mutter st.

Boys.

Divert your wants in "Sunday Morning Post-DISPATCH."

WANTED—Cook, immediately, man or woman, st. 115 Washington. Ad. 56

WANTED—A situation by a first-class pastry, hotel & restaurant cook (twenty-five years) experience; reference given. Ad. J. M., 722 Mutter st.

Miscellaneous.

Divert your wants in "Sunday Morning Post-DISPATCH."

WANTED—By a young man of 33, employment of any kind; to be steady and want work. Address K 36, this office.

HELP WANTED—MALES.

Boys.

Divert your work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WANTED—A boy to stand to boxes and bugger; no goods required. Apply at 1829 Hickory st.

WANTED—Strong, intelligent boy, 16 to 19 years old, to learn trade. Central Type Foundry. 61

WANTED—Boy or man to wash dishes and work about hotel. Call at Burton Hotel, 12 N. 4th st.

WANTED—Good, industrious boy of 15 years to work about store; to be steady; good wages. Address 42, B 36, this office.

Cooks.

Divert your work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WANTED—Cook for a small hospital in Texas. Address 42, B 36, this office.

WANTED—In answering advertisements in this column mention the Post-Dispatch.

Boys.

Divert your work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WANTED—A boy to stand to boxes and bugger; no goods required. Apply at 1829 Hickory st.

WANTED—Strong, intelligent boy, 16 to 19 years old, to learn trade. Central Type Foundry. 61

WANTED—Boy or man to wash dishes and work about hotel. Call at Burton Hotel, 12 N. 4th st.

WANTED—Good, industrious boy of 15 years to work about store; to be steady; good wages. Address 42, B 36, this office.

Boys.

Divert your work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WANTED—Cook for a small hospital in Texas. Address 42, B 36, this office.

WANTED—In answering advertisements in this column mention the Post-Dispatch.

HELP WANTED—MALES.

The Trades.

If you want work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WANTED—Two good tinsmen 114 N. 12th st. H. 56

WANTED—Experienced black-wire machine men. Freeman Wire Co., East St. Louis, Ill.

WANTED—3 experienced frame-makers, 3 No. 1 bench hands. Great Western Planing Mill Co.

WANTED—4 experienced car workers, St. Charles.

WANTED—6 good coach builders who can do finishing; steady work and good pay.

WANTED—100 boiler-makers to work on Spring Valley pipe, near Redwood City, Cal.; wages $10 per day, room and board. Apply at Bisson Iron Works, San Francisco, Cal.

WANTED—At once, 100 bench and floor molders, at the Missouri Malleable Iron Co. Works, 21st and Franklin st.

Laborers.

If you want work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WANTED—20 teams and 10 men on 15th and Olive st. John Stark & Co.

WANTED—Thirty men and twenty teams at Jefferson st. and Franklin st. John Donovan & Co.

WANTED—To-morrow morning, 50 teams and 16 more good laborers; $15 per day. 9th and St. Charles st. Tom Mullens.

Miscellaneous.

If you want work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WANTED—Two teams and 10 men on 15th and Olive st. John Stark & Co.

WANTED—Thirty men and twenty teams at Jefferson st. and Franklin st. John Donovan & Co.

WANTED—To-morrow morning, 50 teams and 16 more good laborers; $15 per day. 9th and St. Charles st. Tom Mullens.

PERSONALS.

UNFORTUNATES look in the Sunday Post-Dispatch for those who can relieve them.

WANTED—20 teams and 10 men on 15th and Olive st. John Stark & Co.

WANTED—Thirty men and twenty teams at Jefferson st. and Franklin st. John Donovan & Co.

WANTED—To-morrow morning, 50 teams and 16 more good laborers; $15 per day. 9th and St. Charles st. Tom Mullens.

PERSONAL SUNDRIES.

If you want work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WANTED—20 teams and 10 men on 15th and Olive st. John Stark & Co.

WANTED—Thirty men and twenty teams at Jefferson st. and Franklin st. John Donovan & Co.

WANTED—To-morrow morning, 50 teams and 16 more good laborers; $15 per day. 9th and St. Charles st. Tom Mullens.

PERSONAL SUNDRIES.

If you want work, advices in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON.

MR. EDMUNDS MAKES A STRONG SPEECH AGAINST FULLER'S CONFIRMATION.

The Vermont Senator Speaks for Four Hours in Executive Session—Congressman Randall's Condition—Acts Approved by the President—The Indian Timber Contract Investigation—Bills Confirmed—The Great Tariff Debate—Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—At 2 o'clock, in accordance with a previous agreement, the Senate, upon motion of both Senators Pugh and Edmunds, went into secret session. A few minutes before a messenger from the Judiciary room brought in and laid upon Mr. Edmunds' desk two bound volumes, like court records in appearance, from the ends of which a great many strips of paper projected, marking places to be referred to. The messenger also brought half a dozen large packages of documents, which he laid on the floor. It is supposed that these reports and papers refer to, and illustrate the career of Melville W. Fuller, and that Mr. Edmunds will open the secret proceedings with a speech in opposition to Mr. Fuller's confirmation.

The Fuller case was taken up and Senator Edmunds addressed the Senate. It is understood his remarks will continue for about four hours.

Congressman Randall.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—Mr. Randall's condition is not materially changed this morning. Although he passed a restful night, he is somewhat weaker, owing to the fact that he wearied himself yesterday by receiving several visitors. However, he will not be permitted to receive visitors until his strength has returned.

To-Day's Bond Offerings.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—To-day's bond offerings amounted to $1,500,000 in lots as follows: 4 per cent registered, $100,000 at 127 1/2; $200,000 at 127 1/2; 4 1/2 per cent registered, $150,000 at 127 1/2; $200,000 at 127 1/2; 4 1/2 per cent registered, $150,000 at 127 1/2; 4 1/2 per cent registered, $100,000 at 127 1/2.

None of the offers of bonds were accepted.

The River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The Conference on the River and Harbor bill have reached an agreement, but have pledged themselves to secrecy as regards to details. There is reason to believe that the Green and Barren improvements remain in the bill, but that its sister proposition relating to the Portage Lake Canal is stricken out. Both were Senate amendments.

Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The President has approved the agricultural and District of Columbia appropriation bills.

Bills' Nomination Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Oscar E. Rea to be register of the land-office at Bismarck, Dak.

FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The House bill to accept and ratify an agreement with the Shoshone and Bannock Indians on the Fort Hall Reservation, Idaho, was reported and passed with an amendment.

The House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—After a little routine business, the House went committee of the whole (Mr. Springer of Illinois in the chair) on the tariff bill, the pending amendment being that offered by Mr. Mills of Texas, restoring the per cent rate of duty on tobacco.

Mr. LaFollette of Wisconsin thought the motion made by Mr. Mills was dictated by a desire for the domestic tobacco industry. The amendment was offered not because of any consideration for the industry or because the farmers wanted protection, but in the hope that it would be used to help the Democratic party to carry Connecticut. Mr. Mills' amendment was then agreed to without division.

On the motion of Springer of New York the present rate of duty was restored on pipes, pipe-bows and all smokers' articles not otherwise provided for. The next few items were then voted on quickly, and after restoring the present rates of duty on the various articles were voted down without division.

Mr. Springer of Illinois, having called Mr. Doubt of Missouri to the chair, addressed the committee in regard to the bill. He stated for the information of members that twenty-three day and eight evening sessions had been consumed in the work of the bill, having been made. The debate under the five-minute rule had consumed up to day twenty-eight days, or 190 hours. This record may be remembered as the most remarkable which has ever occurred in parliamentary history. It had awakened a lively interest, not only in our own country, but throughout the world, and had brought forth, as long as our Government would endure, it would be known as the "great tariff debate of 1883." He then proceeded to argue in support of the free wool feature of the bill.

The bill, on the other hand, had been the subject of an animated political discussion, and when the committee rose and amid applause on the Democratic side, the bill was passed from the chair. The bill, however, was then postponed until Saturday at 11:30 a.m.

AMONG THE BROKERS.

An Active Market—Stocks Sold and Prices Obtained To-Day.

The mining market was very good this morning as regards transfers, but a decline in several favorite stocks was chronicled.

A report was received from the Frisco this morning. It stated that the 300-foot drift had been driven 7 feet, with a total length of 600 feet. The wind had been 9 miles per hour. The horse had been passed and the vein was improving. Two feet of good ore had been found in stop 2, but the horse had not run out. In stop 3, the horse had been passed, but was expected to run over in a day or two. The 400-foot level had been driven 22 feet east, and 16 feet west. In the latter there was a vein of 3 feet of very rich ore, but this had suddenly been cut out, leaving stringers of ore. It is anticipated that as soon as the horse is passed, the wind will run out. The report was current on the street that the ore in the east 400-foot level had been passed out, but this gave the officers of the company little anxiety, as it was said to be a pitch, but a temporary interruption due to the intrusion of the manganese dyke, which would soon pass. Over 3,000 shares of the stock were sold yesterday at $75. The market to-day was $55 bid, offered at $60, with no sales.

A telegram received from a Denver stockholder in the Jumbo stating that the troubles which have so long threatened the property have not been fully met. A lead owing on the mill, and legal proceedings have for some time been threatened. Mr. Lewis, manager of the firm of McNamee and Whistaker, left for the West ten days ago for the purpose of conducting an investigation of the condition of affairs. It is not known what steps he has taken, but the crew of men who have attacked the property, work has been stopped, and as soon as the ore now on hand has been milled operations will be resumed. It is believed that this action is indicative of a loss of confidence on the part of those most heavily interested in the future of the property, but it is thought that the mine can be better operated if the men who are held in a few strong hands, instead of being so widely scattered as is at present the case. It is stated that the mine will be sold under judgment, and the buyers will be the present owners, who will, when it comes into their possession, raise a large treasury fund and endeavor to thoroughly test the property to the best of their ability. The stock was $10 bid, offered at $11.

* * *

The weekly report from the Marquette states: "East 300-foot level of Jumbo in 90 feet last week; concentrates have become almost solid melting ore, measuring over 2 feet, with not over 10 inches of rock in the whole streak." *

Pat Murphy was in good demand, although the price somewhat declined. The market opened at 100, and closed at 100 shares. At 40 more than 1,000 shares were transferred, and the market closed with a sale of 200 shares at $35.

John V. Hogan and wife to Chas. Walker, Jr., 45 ft. on Beck av., city block 4054; warranty deed. John V. Hogan and wife to Christian Ulrich, 33 ft. 4 in. on Meramec st., city block 4054; deed warranty.

John V. Hogan and wife to Christian Ulrich, 50 ft. on Beck av., city block 4054; warranty deed.

John V. Hogan and wife to Henry W. Walker, 24 ft. 4 in. on Meramec st., city block 4054; warranty deed.

John V. Hogan and wife to Christian Ulrich, 75 ft. on Beck av., city block 4054; warranty deed.

The semi-weekly shipment of the Granite Mountain amounted to 18 bars, containing 56,507 ounces of silver and 294 ounces of gold.

The Horses Can Best Now.

Constable Conway from Justice Spaulding's court has on his hands four very tired-looking horses which up to to-day have been used for hauling and for the road-scarpers of Forest City, the latter the contractors of a number of lots on Shenandoah and Jefferson avenue. The horses and harness were seized this morning on two attachments, one in favor of Jas. Harper for a bill of $100, and the other in favor of Jas. Harper for $100. The Constable will retain possession of the horses, pending a settlement between McNamey and the other two concerned.

The Bridal Bulletin.

The following marriage licenses were issued by the Recorder during the twenty-four hours ending at 3 p. m. to-day:

Residence. Emma Vasquez, 201 S. 15th st.

E. K. Kotte, 1128 S. 4th st.

John C. Goss, 1123 Lexington av.

John C. Goss, 1123 Lexington av.

Samuel L. Hoor, 1128 S. 4th st.

Samuel L. Hoor, 1128 S. 4th st.

Adolph Weigand, 1128 S. 21st st.

Adelle Fitchett, 4141 Lucky st.

Joseph Stohlik, 1128 S. 18th st.

John F. McNamey, 1128 S. 18th st.

Samuel B. Berg, 1128 S. 21st st.

Charles M. Tozier, 28218 N. Broadway.

Hattie C. Davis, 821 Benton st.

Andreas Trapp, 2839 S. 7th st.

Wilhelmine Kerschel, 2839 S. 7th st.

PURCHASE. GOLD WEDDING RINGS.

Wedding invitations executed, lowest prices.

Lovely goods for Wedding Gifts, low prices.

MERMOD & JACQUARD JEWELLERY CO., COR. 4TH & LOUIS STS.

Births.

The following births were reported to the Health Department during the twenty-four hours ending at 3 p. m. to-day:

Ernest George, son of F. H. and Johanna Schultz, 1412 Shenandoah street.

John D. and Clara Webster, July 16; 10 a. m.

Theresa, daughter of William and Helene Stevens.

John Karl, son of John and Charlotte Tschubert, July 14, 2333; Sullivan avenue.

John Karl, son of John and Charlotte Tschubert, July 14, 2333; Sullivan avenue.

John Karl, son of John and Charlotte Tschubert, July 14, 2333; Sullivan avenue.

Marjorie Deanne, daughter of W. K. and Josephine F. Springer, 1128 S. 21st st.

Andrews, son of August and Salie Heinrich, July 8, 2008 North Lexington avenue.

George and Lottie Hulseman, June 29, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

John and Helene Kerschel, August 1, 1883; 1128 S. 21st st.

716 N. Broadway, 118 N. Fourth St.
712 Olive St., 124 Olive St.
THE DELICATESSEN
LUNCH ROOMS.
REDUCED PRICES.

Large stock to select from. Now is your chance.
F. W. SUHRE, Taylor,
520 Pine St.

CITY NEWS.

CRAWFORD closes at 1 o'clock on Saturday during July and August. Special Saturday morning drives in men's furnishings and hardware.

Dr. E. C. Chase,
Corner of 8th and Olive streets. Set of teeth, $2.

PRIVATE matters skillfully treated and medicines furnished. Dr. Dinsmore, 814 Pine Street.

Dr. WHITMER, 617 St. Charles, cures diseases of indiscipline, indulgence. Call or write.

A TUNNEL WRECK.

Full Details of the Killing of Conductor Withers and Fireman Belcour.

The western mouth of the tunnel was the scene at 4:45 o'clock yesterday of a terrible accident. At the time mentioned bridge engine No. 11 in charge of Edward J. Newman, engineer, and Frank Belcour, fireman, emerged from the tunnel drawing a train of thirty three freight cars, eighteen laden with coal and fifteen empty. The train was in charge of Conductor William E. Withers, who was seated on the pilot of the engine. A very short distance from the western exit of the tunnel is a coal switch which runs alongside of the train dispatcher's tower. The engine was on the coal switch sand house. The track at this point is slightly curved. When the engine struck the frog, for some unaccountable reason the wheels took the wrong track and the train derailed. The freight car immediately behind did not follow but continued on the main track.

THE TERRIBLE WRECK.—The coupling which linked the forward car to the engine and both the engine and freight cars continued on their separate ways. When the engine left the main track it ploughed over the tie of the coal switch, struck the sand house, and then derailed. It turned its head and stopped holding on to the sand house. The shunt of the switchman's shanty and then suddenly turned and shot into the sand house, about six feet from the sand house. The second car of the train, on which the engine had been derailed, came thundering along and struck the shanty. It was the second car which was almost in an instant piled up on top of one another. Withers was killed instantly.

Engineer Newman and Fireman Belcour did not.

JUMP FROM THE ENGINE
when it left the track, but remained at their posts in the cab. The cab, as well as all of the cars, were referred to and on the other was the buildings referred to and on the other was the train dashing along and liable to be piled up in a heap in an instant. Then the engine struck the sand house, known as a sand house, but came to a standstill. The shock threw Fireman Belcour to the ground and the large iron tank, the connection of which to the engine had been broken, fell over on him, killing him instantly. Fireman kept his seat and fortunately escaped serious injury. The great noise made by the crash and escaping steam attracted an immense crowd of spectators. The engine, under the command of Sergt. Hoagland, had great difficulty in keeping the thousands of moribund victims back from the wreck. The body of Belcour was found to be a mass of bones. The head was mashed, the breast, abdomen and arms were crushed, the skull was in fragments and the body was covered with blood and brains. It was a horrible sight. Edward J. Newman escaped with only a few bruises and went at once to his home.

The bodies of Withers and Belcour were taken to the Morgue.

Frank Belcour was 38 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children. His home was on High street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third.

William E. Withers was 37 years of age, unmarried and lived with his mother at 1500 Washington avenue. Withers was the man who killed John Gordon on Fourteenth and Poplar streets during the strike two years ago.

QUICKEST LINE TO ST. PAUL.

The Wabash Western Ry.

Only Line with Two Trains Daily, and Through Cars to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Pullman Buffet Sleeping Cars.

See Route to all Northwestern Resorts.

St. Louis Ticket Offices, S. E. Corner Fifth and Olive and Union Depot.

MISSOURI BAR ASSOCIATION.

Increase of Salaries Suggested—Mrs. Thompson's Divorce—Missouri Matters.

PERFECT SPRINGS, July 19.—The Missouri Bar Association in session here has adopted resolutions to the effect that the salaries of judges of the District Court of the United States should be uniform and $5,000 a year; that the salaries of the judges of the Courts of Appeal of Kansas City and St. Louis be equalized, the amount to be fixed at $5,000 per year; that the salaries of the Supreme Judges be increased to $6,000, and those of the Circuit Judges be paid out of the State Treasury at $5,000 per year.

INDEPENDENCE, July 19.—Richard Chambers, age 50, was drowned in Big Blue River, yesterday, just as he was coming to the surface after diving, by being struck by James Chaney, who was also diving, they heard.

MEXICO, July 19.—The educational convention meeting here is discussing the establishment of a public college, but has decided that no step in that direction will be taken unless an endowment fund of $25,000 is raised.

SEDAWIA, July 19.—H. Bone, a "Q" engineer, was yesterday tried for carrying a pistol, but discharged because of his defense that his life was in danger at the hands of strikers here.

A BIG MOVE.

W. B. Boyd & Co. to O'coopy the Finest Men's Furnishing Goods Store in the World.

About August 20, T. B. Boyd & Co. will open their new store, 510 and 514 Olive street. When completed it will be the finest men's furnishing goods store in the world. In the meantime they are closing out their surplus summer stock of men's furnishing goods at a tremendous discount.

QUARANTINE RAISED.

A Wronged Husband's Revenge—Consul Murdoch's Remains—Texas Topic.

EL PASO, Tex., July 19.—The quarantine established against Pas del Norte by the El Paso authorities, on account of diphtheria in the former place, has been raised. The remains of Consul Murdoch have been shipped to El Paso by Jim McInnes.

DALAS, July 19.—Jim McInnes has shot and killed Masse Yucas, who was found in a compromising situation with the former's wife.

Houston, July 19.—F. Phillips, a well-known gardener, has filed a suit for $2,000 damages against Orange Swan, on the ground of assault and battery.

Douglas daily trains to St. Paul and Minneapolis via the Wabash Western. Tickets office, S. E. corner Fifth and Olive streets.

GAUDAUR WILL GO.

THE EX-CHAMPION OARSMAN DECIDES UPON LEAVING ST. LOUIS.

Mr. St. John Gives the Reasons for the Step—Creve Cour Lake as a Rowing Course—Questionable Base Ball Tactics—Tim Murnane Tells a Story About Lew Simmons—Porter Ashe Celebrates—Sporting Matters—Hood Chat.

For the past two weeks a paragraph has been printed in many of the Eastern papers to the effect that Jake Gaudaur, the ex-chaplain oarsman of America, will shortly remove from St. Louis, which now has been his permanent residence for a number of years and will locate in the East.

There is much truth in this report, and the reasons therefore are many and strong. Mr. J. A. St. John, Gaudaur's plucky backer, was asked to explain the matter to-day and he said:

"Some weeks ago I was talking with Jake about his prospects and one thing or another, and I then told him that the best thing he could possibly do would be to move from St. Louis and settle in the East. My reasons were good. Long before a railroad was ever built to Creve Cour Lake I predicted in print that a railroad would be built to that point and that it would become one of the great rowing courses in the country. I then predicted that national and international boating races would be rowed on that course. As a matter of fact the lake is one of the finest rowing courses in the world. The water is as smooth as glass, well situated, sufficient in extent, and never rough enough to postpone a race; probably not in 100 times. All that was necessary was the facilities. In time my predictions were realized. The great oarsmen of the country have rowed on Creve Cour. Gaudaur, Hanlan, Trickett, Teemer and others of less note have dipped their oars in depths, and the regatta has been conducted there. The first two years of the business we had an agreement with the railroads to pay us a certain percentage of the profits on our sales. This was a great mistake.

Mr. St. John, Gaudaur's backer, was asked to explain the matter to-day and he said: "I am a boy from the Merrimac River at Lowell, Mass., and rent boats. His reputation as an oarsman will go far to help him in this respect and he can attract a number of them to his boat. His reputation as a boatman will be a great inducement and the lake will be a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary inducements and the lake fell into a sort of innocuous desuetude, as it were. There was no use in bringing big oarsmen to row on the lake, as it is a great city. That fact was proved by the fact that the road could not supply cars enough for the people who wanted to see the races. But the railroads stopped holding on to necessary